THE NEW BACK TO SCHOOL NORM

Back to school fall 2021 will be an entirely new experience. Most kids have not been back into their classrooms for over a year! What does this mean? What are the risks? What are the rewards? One thing we do know, is that at GreenAcres, we are here to support you on keeping your kids & family healthy no matter what the learning situation looks like this fall.

HERE ARE OUR TOP RECOMMENDATIONS FOR HOW TO APPROACH BACK TO SCHOOL:

BE PREPARED!! Purchase appropriate masks, sanitizer & other safety items and stock them in multiple places so your kids don't have to worry about remembering them. Hide them in coat pockets, backpacks, lockers & other strategic places, along with notes to encourage them as they venture out again.

STOCK UP THEIR BAGS WITH HEALTHY SNACKS! Kids may have new schedules and home rooms might look different. However; during breaks, lunchroom and recess always give them access to great healthy snacks so they don't skip important meals & come home hungry or fill up on junk food.

GET THEM ON A ROUTINE: Start adjusting their evening and wake-up habits weeks before starting. Add in important vitamins to support immune & brain health & sleep, lots of water, stress reducing exercises, quality quiet time to unwind & then watch them thrive!

OFFER BALANCED MEALS: Even though this will be difficult for everyone with adjusting schedules, try to create structure around at least one meal a day (breakfast or dinner) - so they eat at a similar time, sit down & be present & enjoy good fresh, wholesome (organic when possible), well balanced meals. And get them to participate in prep & clean-up so it can be a family event.

YOGURT

SHEET PAN PANCAKES WITH MIXED BERRIES

INGREDIENTS

- Cooking spray -1 ½ cups all-purpose unbleached flour*
- ½ cup white whole wheat flour* -2 Tbs granulated sugar
- 2 tsp baking powder -1 tsp baking soda -1 1/2 cups of your favorite organic yogurt
- 3/4 cup milk -6 Tbs water -2 large eggs -1 tsp kosher salt
- 2 Tbs unsalted butter, melted then cooled slightly -2 tsp vanilla extract
- 1 1/2 cups fresh or frozen mixed berries sub a gluten free option*

DIRECTIONS

1. Move the oven rack to the middle position and preheat oven to 425 degrees F.
2. Spray a rimmed 18" x 13" sheet pan with cooking spray, this will keep the parchment in place.
3. Cut a piece of parchment paper to cover the bottom completely, about 16 x 20 inches. Place on the sheet pan and spray more oil on the parchment, and around the sides of the sheet pan.
4. In a medium bowl, whisk together dry ingredients (from flour to salt).
5. In another medium bowl, whisk together wet ingredients until thoroughly combined.
6. Mix wet & dry ingredients into the bowl until just combined. Don't over mix! Gently fold in berries.
7. Pour the batter into the prepared baking sheet. Spread the batter evenly with a spatula then tap the sheet pan on the counter a couple times to settle the batter.
8. Bake for 15 to 17 minutes, rotating the pan halfway through.
9. Allow to cool for 5 minutes in the pan then, place a large cutting board over the top of the pan and flip the pancakes onto cutting board. Cut into 16 squares and serve immediately.

IF YOU SWEAT...REHYDRATE!

NEXT LEVEL ELECTROLYTES FOR WORLD-CLASS PERFORMANCE

REACHING YOUR BEST LEVEL OF PERFORMANCE MAY BE ABOUT USING THE RESOURCES YOU ALREADY HAVE TO THEIR HIGHEST CAPACITY. And it all comes down to a new way of managing your hydration.

Athletes and busy people sweat, causing the loss of huge quantities of electrolytes & increased dehydration.

- Dehydration of even 1-2% significantly compromises performance!
- Dehydration of 3% can lead to cramps, heat exhaustion, and even stroke!

In hot weather, even one hour of intense activity can cause dehydration of up to 3%. Popular sports drink companies claim all kinds of benefits of their neon-colored electrolyte liquids & sponsor major sports teams for exposure. However, they often include un-natural ingredients & added sugar & colors that make them more "appealing". The crash effect of these ingredients are often far worse than the benefits of the drink.

WHAT ARE ELECTROLYTES?

Electrolytes are minerals that give water -- and your blood -- an electrical charge. They create the critical internal environment your cells and organs need for optimal function. Beyond that, they are involved in hundreds of chemical reactions necessary for your health and athletic performance. The most important minerals include sodium, potassium, calcium, phosphorus, zinc, chloride, and magnesium.

WHAT DO THEY DO?

The right balance of electrolytes can:

- Improve blood flow and circulation
- Enhance oxygen delivery
- Reduce cramping and injuries by facilitating the removal of waste from muscles
- Lubricate joints and tissues, reducing injury
- Help regulate temperature and prevent overheating

THE PERFECT ELECTROLYTE SOLUTION

BodyHealth Perfect Amino Electrolytes contain a perfect combination of electrolytes, trace minerals, and essential amino acids. It is not just the "electrolytes" that are important, it is the ratio that matters. These electrolytes are formulated in the exact ratio your body needs to maintain high performance even in the most rigorous training and competition conditions. Plus, they are fortified with Perfect Amino, a special formula of essential amino acids -- your secret weapon for endurance and performance. These amino acids prevent protein breakdown and keep you strong all the way to the finish line.

It has ZERO sugar, is 100% keto safe, paleo, and vegan -- so you can continue your regimen & live your optimal performance.

Isn't it time you "upped" your electrolytes? Come into GreenAcres Market and let our friendly staff help you find the next level of hydration with BodyHealth Perfect Amino Electrolytes.
