GOOD HEALTH

STARTS HERE!

As we prepare to ramp up for back to school and fall activities everyone is wondering what will it look like healthwise. Here at GreenAcres, we want to get a jump start & summarize what we are seeing as the most important items to stock up on & make sure your family has access to before heading back to their normal routines. It is still essential to focus on your immune system — but a baseline of support has become super important because there is an ongoing level of stress, exposure to viruses & other circumstances that will be a constant attack on the body.

✓ Let's start with the basics — a good, strong, effective & comprehensive multi-vitamin. Then we can add on additional items to fortify your wellness.

MULTIVITAMINS

Foundation Nutrients

For more details on why each of these categories are essential to maintain wellness — visit your favorite GreenAcres & talk to our experts to get you started on a solid regime! !!

TRADITIONAL

multivitamins usually offer better potency than food-based or gummies.

FOOD-BASED

vitamins are more easily utilized within our bodies so potency can be lower.

GUMMY MULTIVITAMINS

* Gummies are lower in potency but are superb choices for kids!

✓ Check for these components:
Vitamin C, B-Complex, D3, E, A, Calcium, Magnesium, Selenium, Zinc, Copper

IMMUNE DEFENSE

Traditional Products:
Elderberry, Vit. C, Vit. D3, Vit. K2, Zinc, & Selenium
Enhanced Products:

DIGESTION

Pre, Post and Probiotics, Fiber, Digestive Enzymes

HAIR, SKIN, NAILS & BONE HEALTH

Raising the Bar

School is back in session! Suddenly snacking— after school, before sports in between classes – takes on new importance. Sugary treats are out. Gorging on chips does not provide much nutrient value. Kids need energy and unlike during the summer months when kids tend to eat more “junk” food, parents are concerned that snacks provide needed nutrients, beneficial energy support and satisfying flavor profiles to keep kids interested. GreenAcres Market has healthy nutrition bars that can fill a raging appetite and provide necessary energy for on-the-go snacking.

AND, bars aren't just for school kids - this applies to adults looking for healthy snacks as well.

Here is the GOAL:

Hunger can't wait when you are a kid. Your job as a parent is to get the healthy choices in the lunch boxes, back packs, and kitchen cupboard so kids will gravitate to the nutrition they need without spoiling their appetites for mealtimes.

- Clif Kid Z-Bars
- Made Good Granola Bars
- Munk Pack Keto Granola Bars

- Annie's
- Go Macro
- Simple Mills

What to look for in a Healthy Bar:

While typically referred to as “granola” bars, there are options that provide more than oatmeal and a sweetener to hold them together. Active kids need calories for energy, but quality calories must take precedent over empty calories for refined sugar!

CARB COUNT: Yes, your bars will contain carbohydrates that come from slower burning sources for sustained energy. Rather than looking at carb count, check added sugar for a realistic understanding of where the calories are. Healthy bars can contain carbohydrates from fruit, dried berries, banana chips and nuts.

SUGAR SOURCES: Brown rice syrup, agave nectar and other natural sweeteners are slower burning and provide sustained energy without the spike in blood sugar. Cane sugar is less desirable and should be avoided when possible.

BENEFICIAL INGREDIENTS: Almonds, sunflower seeds, and flaxseeds in the bars can provide added crunch to the bars but more importantly they can be a source of protein, fiber, and beneficial fats for body and brain health.

IMPORTANT CERTIFICATIONS: Organic, Non-GMO and gluten-free options are easy to find in healthy nutrition bars at GreenAcres.

AVOID WEIGHT GAIN: If you have children who are struggling with their weight, you can check out the Keto bar options that have increased protein and fat and next to no sugar.

Do you often feel you spend more on packaging than you do on the product?

This is a common problem with health & beauty products. But the truth of it is - we don't want to give up our lotions, favorite shampoos, makeup and more.

What if we had a solution that allowed you to have the best of both worlds!

One of the biggest trends in the natural products industry is not only reusable/recyclable packaging, but useful products that the packaging IS the product! Yes, that means that almost every part of the packaging can be used as part of the product.

Delivery System for Supplements: WHAT WORKS FOR YOU?

One of the main questions we ask someone when picking out a supplement is:

What will make you take a supplement regularly?

Followed by:

Do you prefer a tablet or capsule?

Do you prefer liquid, powder, or gummy?

Do you want to take a one-a-day or are you wanting more therapeutic doses?

Do you prefer individual nutrients or combinations?

You can easily get caught up in the details of how to make supplements most effective such as take them in the morning, take them at night, take them with food, don't take them with this or that. But we always come back to the most important point which is - you need to do what is best for you to make sure you will take them consistently. What makes supplements the most effective is that you take them according to the label on the bottle.

Come talk to one of our experts and we'll help you find the supplements that are just right for your health needs AND your lifestyle!
